cleaning of public places, attention might properly be called to it outside the Police Court.

The crowd notice it, and comment on it, and seem to appreciate the neatness That prevails.

The audience yesterday was well above the average and though some times a little slow to respond, showed their intelligence by mastering the intricacles of the Great Law Giver's most compilwrised blocs. ested tokes.

The Great Dispenser was playfully saustere yesterday morning and the little taps that he dealt the terrilled offenders by Jore him were like the blows of a modern trip-hammer, which welds a foot of from or touches without breaking the crystal of your watch at the will of the man at was no more sensation than a common warrant trying in the country.

MRS. FASSI'S STORY.

She told her story through an interpreter, and claimed that after living with the Moschitti's for three months she left on account of their not furnishing her sufficent food, and that they owed her two months wages, amounting to $10 when the left; that when she went to Mcschitti's store and asked for the money Mrs. Moschett beat her with an umbrella over the shoulders and arms, and that Moschetti and another Italian man roughly shoved her across the side-walk into the street.

A young man who saw the affair cor-roberated the woman's story, and a heavy the loomed up in the mind of Sergeant THREW UP THE SPONGE.

Thomas.

THREW UP THE SPONGE.

But Mr. Harwood, manager of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, who saw the fuss from his store door on the opposite side of the street, declared it to be a woman's row and that the efforts of the two men were directed towards separating the women.

The Great Dispenser threw up the sponge, and M. Harwood lost Sergeant Thomas' vote when he runs for Mayor.

The Great Dispenser declared that no sman should lay the weight of his hand upon any woman in Richmond, except in love and kindness; "but," said he, "when women fall out"—and there was a deep pause; every one was silent, but intently listening—you could hear the Great Dispenser's massive brain tick like a Waterbury watch, but no one will ever know the burden of his thoughts. He kept them deep down in his manly, chivalrous heart.

He finally drew a deep sigh; everybody held their breath as he slowly announced: "The case is dismissed," and the great machine of the Police Court again started into life, like a vessel which slowly crosses a sunken reef and is given steam as soon as deep water is reached and the dauger is passed.

There were other dismissed, except

DISMISSED CASES.

There were other dismissed cases.
Jim Booker was charged with having gone to sleep on a bench in Capitol Square. It was proven that the Senator from Ballahack was speaking in full hearing of the bench on a reform bill, and Jim was discharged at once.

Sam Beazley was charged with being drunk on the street. He proved that he had taken only tilriteen drinks and was a victim to the unlucky number. He had been good a long time previous and was dismissed.

Mrs. W. S. Murray presided at the reg Mrs. W. S. Murray presided at the reg-tifiar monthly meeting of the Masonic Home Auxiliary held at the Temple at il o'clock yesterday morning. Reports by the chairman of the various com-mittees were rendered and these showed that the association is in a most flourish-ing condition. The membership has more than doubled during the past year, and great interest is taken in the work of the organization.

The Retrenchment and Reform Com-The Retrenchment and Reform Committee reported that since June 1st, 1898, the Richmond Rallway Company has tharged four fares for a round-trip to the Masonic Home, while the same company carries passengers to Forest Hill Pack or the Hill monument for one fare, attough the distance is a discrimination against the Home, and appeal to the Musons of Richmond to remedy the evil when the new franchise is granted, or to induce the Traction Company to build a spur track back of Oakwood. The Home is half a mile from Oakwood.

Oakwood.

Mrs. Murray stated that her report was a Psaim of Thanksgiving. The Richmond dally papers were thanked for their generosity in calling all the meetings, their many kind expressions, and for keeping the people in touch with the work. The public was thanked for responsive interest on all occasions.

The Beard of Governors were thanked The Board of Governors were thanked their unfailing courtesy and ever-

The Sunday-School teachers, Messrs. W.
H. Curry, H. T. W. Southern, J. H. Reed and J. N. Armstrong were thanked for their fidelity in conducting the school at the the Home every Sunday afternoon in all stress of the elements, during the excesses of summer and the rigors of winter.

In conclusion Mrs. Murray expressed her gratification of the year's beautiful record of perfect harmony along all lines, and thanks the indies of the Auxiliary for their loyalty to the cause, their tender consideration for herself, and their loving co-operation. Washington's birthday, February 22nd, Washingtoh's birthday, February 22nd, will be observed by the Auxiliary, as book-day for the Masonic Orphans.

The ladies feel very grateful to Mr. Samuel Whybrew, Superintendent of the Boy's Bureau, for the donation of a large number of periodicals and the premise of a similar budget every month.

NO MEETING HELD.

Richmond Street Car Situation Remains Unchanged, There has been no change in the street

There has been no conference between the representatives of the bondholders and the corporators of the Richmond street-Car Syndicate yesterday, and just when one will be held is not yet known, but it will be within a short time, probably a day-

Neither Mr. Wilson nor Mr. Watson, of New York, could be located in town and the representatives of the bondholders had not arrived, so the meeting went over.

HE HAD FRIENDS. HE HAD FRIENDS.

Antonio Moschitti and Georgianna his suffe were charged with abusing and assaulting Mrs. Madeline Fassi.

Moschitti is a well-known figure in Jefferson Ward, and though his words are a little broken 'the speaks the language of the tribe." He can polish the apple unit at shines like a billiard-ball and then stack hiem in colors, with a checker-board offset that is pretty to see.

st sines in colors, with a checker-board effect that is pretty to see.

One might have thought from the political pull that came along with Moschitt Hhat he was hard to move, but not so. The Great Dispenser admitted that "Toney" was an angel up to the point of this row, and thus staved off a political convension in front of the bench.

Mrs. Madelina Fassi is the woman who created considerable sympathy some anonths ago, because having come here with her husband and son from New York she was left alone and without support, by reason of the two snen having ben beent to the penliculary from the United States Cohrt for counterfeiting.
